Our Attitude Towards Change Exposes our Real Values

Am I realizing any value(s) in my life that need some adjustment?

Adults learn by engaging

What is an activity you can modify or add to your preparation of support raisers that incorporates adult learning principles?

NOW is the starting point for getting to the new place your learners need to be

How can you as an organization make movement from "presenting training on support raising" towards "preparing support raisers"?

Build learning experiences that transform HEAD, HEART and HANDS

Are you better at helping transformation in one of the three areas?

Who do you need to work with who would be strong at one of the other two?
